MESSAGE

ABS-CBN is a great storyteller. It is a gift we have nurtured for the last 60 years.

Our Programs at ALKFI - reflect realities of life's struggles, of dreams and aspirations, of tragedies and triumphs. It is an anthology of experiences of our Kapamilyas, who have welcomed us in their homes to share their stories - stories of compassion, empathy, malasakit, perseverance, bayanihan, hope and triumph. All of which remind us of the very reason of humanity, country, purpose and our existence.

As we together write the next pages of the foundation's history, I look back with great satisfaction at what the organization has achieved in the last 25 years. Its contributions to our people, our environment, our country - and its interventions in poverty alleviation, children's welfare, education and community building are indeed - pioneering and unprecedented.

“ Going forward, I see the foundation engaging in a more significant role in nation building by influencing and shaping legislation of advocacies it promotes. I am confident that this direction will allow the foundation to improve more lives and ensure sustainability and relevance in the years ahead. ”

The foundation is not only an institution of ABS-CBN, but of every one who has shared himself unselfishly to be in the service of the Filipino. I pay tribute to every employee, partner, donor and volunteer who have made our aspirations for children, the environment, the Filipino family and the country - a reality.

With your support, ABS-CBN Lingkod Kapamilya will be able to continue spreading the stories of change, progress and transformation for millions and millions more.

Mabuhay kayong lahat at maraming salamat sa inyo, Kapamilya.

MESSAGE

This year ALKFI turns 25 years old. Looking back - I feel "It is amazing how possibilities are transformed into reality." What the foundation is today, is the sum of what we have collectively envisioned through its 25-year history. By working together and continuously connecting people and institutions, we were able to create models in education, the environment and communities-- pieces of paradise built through persistence, dedication and a lot of hard work.

"Pwede pala, kaya pala!". By having a positive mindset, there is absolutely nothing that we cannot accomplish. When intentions are aligned with truth, and one comes from a space of genuine caring and desire to improve the lives of others, the right people and resources naturally gravitate to make the seemingly impossible happen. These partnerships have placed our audio visual programmes for education program in 8,000 schools around the country. Together we have reforested an entire watershed and taken the lead in partnership with the government towards the clean up of 16 toxic esteros in record time. Together we have successfully relocated 5,000 families in a thriving community. Together we have established Asia's model for child care and abuse prevention. Together we have and are bulding models which say in no uncertain terms "Pwede pala, kaya pala natin!"

“ ALKFI has stood the test of time and will continue to make an indelible impact on our country and our people. We will continue to adhere to the principles of integrity, with utmost transparency in our financials. We will continue to serve, to do what is right and to always uphold Truth and the Common Good. ”

I am proud that we have built an organization that possesses a deep sense of compassion and empathy, with a workforce that sincerely cares for others. We will continue to dream, to keep going no matter the obstacles always keeping the good of the country and the love of the Divine in the forefront. It is the determination to go ahead despite the challenges, to learn despite the setbacks that leads to growth.

With utmost sincerity on behalf of all the people that have been helped I am extending my deepest gratitude for trusting us, for working with us - and I hope the relationship we have built will continue to blossom as we strive towards a country we want to bequeath to our children. For God and country, we will make it happen.

Mabuhay ang Pilipinas.

MESSAGE

To be in the service of the Filipino is a broad, vast and daunting task ABS-CBN Lingkod Kapamilya Foundation, Inc. (ALKFI) took on when it began 25 years ago. Since the Foundation began in 1989, it has been actively involved in child protection and welfare, environmental protection, education, disaster management, and community development. Over the years, with the support of all our Donors and Partners, the Foundation has been able to help our Kapamilyas of all ages - all over the country.

This year, after being given the opportunity to handle ALKFI's backroom operations for three years, I was called upon to Head ALKFI and provide a foundation for a stronger Organization in the years to come. I believe that this will happen through collaboration and the combined efforts of Programs, Partners from various Sectors, and Individuals that share our advocacies and values, as well as communities we accompany - towards positive change.

All told, it is my hope that the initiated efforts over the years coupled with the on-going thrusts of collaboration and partnerships, we will attain sustainability and continue our vision and mission in the next 25 years.

Moving forward, while the landscape and situational context of the country have vastly changed since 1989, ALKFI's journey continues with the same dream of contributing to the common good and making Philippines a better place - in the service of the Filipino.

MEDICAL CASES

 Text and data lifted from Bantay Bata 163's medical records.*

Patient: ANGELI, 10 years old

Diagnosis: CONGENITAL HEART DISEASE - PATENT DUCTUS ARTERIOSUS

Case Background:

Angeli was born pre-term. At nine months, she was admitted at the National Children's Hospital due to pneumonia where she was diagnosed to have Patent Ductus Arteriosus (PDA), a type of Congenital Heart Disease. In 2011, at age 8, Angeli had her first consultation at the Philippine Heart Center. The cardiologist informed the family that Angeli needs to undergo PDA closure with an Occluder.

Socio-economic Status of the Family:

Angeli's father works as an aluminium installer/fabricator. Her mother is a housewife. Since the family's income is just enough to meet their daily basic needs, they decided to seek medical assistance from Bantay Bata.

Present Condition:

Angeli underwent PDA Closure with Occluder last October 2013 at Philippine Heart Center. The procedure was well tolerated by the child. She is presently enrolled in a Kindergarten School. She now lives a normal life. The family is grateful for the help and support that Bantay Bata provided to their daughter.

Patient: Chrissalaine, 4 years old

Diagnosis: IMPERFORATE ANUS

Case Background:

The patient is the youngest among three children. She was diagnosed with imperforate anus at birth. She immediately underwent colostomy procedure to avoid possible complications. However, Chrissalaine still needed to undergo two corrective surgeries. The family could not afford the cost of the surgery.

Family Background and Socio-economic Status:

Chrissalaine's father earns Php 300.00 a day as a construction worker while his wife is unemployed. Their relatives could not afford to extend any financial help. Hence, they sought assistance from Bantay Bata for the child's medical needs.

Present Condition:

On May 2012, Chrissalaine underwent pull through procedure and on March 2013, closure of colostomy was done. At present Chrissalaine is able to have normal bowel movement. She has gained weight and can interact with other children without the fear of being teased.

Patient: Angel, 2 years old

Diagnosis: MENINGO-ENCEPHALOCOELE

Case Background:

The patient was born with a small lump at the back part of her head. She was seen and examined in a local hospital in Pampanga. The family was advised to seek consultation in Manila for further evaluation and management. Since the lump on Angel's head was rapidly increasing in size she was referred to Philippine Children's Medical Center for proper medical management. At PCMC, the patient had Cranial CT Scan and was diagnosed with Occipital Meningo-encephalocele. Surgery was recommended to prevent further complications.

Family Background and Socio-economic Status:

Angel's family lives in Pampanga. Her father is a butcher with a very minimal income while her mother is a housewife. Financial assistance from relatives for Angel's surgery was insufficient. Fearing that Angel might develop serious complications if surgery will not be done immediately, the parents came to Bantay Bata for assistance.

Present Condition:

Angel underwent Repair of Meningocele & Ventriculo Peritoneal Shunting on March 2013. She has recovered well from surgery. Height & weight gain were noted. She can now stand with minimal support. Regular follow-up consultations are undertaken to monitor her neurological condition. The family expressed their gratitude to Bantay Bata & donors who helped Angel live a normal life.

BANTAY KALIKASAN

ABS-CBN Lingkod Kapamilya Foundation recognizes the important role of conserving the environment in achieving sustainable development. In partnership with various public and private institutions, innovative environmental projects are being implemented to address not just symptoms but also root causes of environmental problems. One of the major of the accomplishments of Bantay Kalikasan since its inception is the successful reforestation of the La Mesa Nature Reserve and Watershed. Through public support and funding, it was able to cover a total of 1,552 hectares. Today, many local government units seek the technical expertise of La Mesa's forest management team to duplicate the success of La Mesa in other watersheds in the country.

Key to reforestation of the watershed is the effective management of the La Mesa Eco Park which financially supports maintenance and administration. By offering several attractions to the public like biking, walking and running trails, swimming, bungee jumping, horseback riding and archery among others, the park has been able sustain the operations of the watershed. The LMEP has become a very popular destination for families from both the city and nearby provinces. It is likewise the most preferred location of couples for pre-wedding photography shoots, earning the park the title "Pre-nup Pictorial Capital of the Philippines".

In 2013, BK takes its commitment to the environment to a whole new level by launching the Green Initiative, a movement that aims to create more ecotourism sites in the country. By introducing ecotourism, communities become aware of the economic potential and viability of natural attractions found within their region. It is also an opportunity to showcase local culture, cuisine and talent. In Puerto Princesa, Palawan, BK jumpstarted the Ugong Rock Adventures four years ago with one million pesos seed money, helping a handful of families. In 2013, Ugong Rock has grossed more than P23 million from its operations, directly benefitting 250 families and nearby communities where the economic benefits have spilled over. BK has also began to explore other possible eco tourism sites using Ugong Rock as business model. The sites include Romblon, Marinduque and Mindoro.

SUSTAINING THE ECO PARK

Back in 2001 the ABS-CBN Foundation, Inc. (AFI) now known as ABS-CBN Lingkod Kapamilya Foundation Inc. (ALKFI) and Metropolitan Waterworks and Sewerage System (MWSS) entered into a Memorandum of Understanding for the implementation of the La Mesa Reservation Resource Management Framework Plan which seeks the reforestation of the La Mesa Watershed. Subsequently a Memorandum of Agreement was entered into by and between MWSS, AFI and Local Government of Quezon City (LGQC) in 2005 to open and manage the La Mesa Ecopark for fifteen years. AFI through its environment program, Bantay Kalikasan (BK) shall be in charge of the park's operations. Those who visit the park and have seen the watershed will agree that the effective management of La Mesa by ALKFI made it possible for this once denuded forest to be transformed into one of the city's best attractions.

SPOTTED: Endemic Bird Specie in La Mesa Ecopark

A rare bird specie flies over urbanized Metro Manila. Known as Ashy Thrush Zoothera cinerea, the bird was discovered by a group of birdwatchers around the vicinity of the La Mesa Ecopark (LME), a 33 hectare public park within La Mesa Watershed in Quezon City.

The group accidentally spotted Ashy Thrush late last year while looking for Red-bellied Pitta pitta erythrogaster that had been reported to be in the park. Ashy Thrush is a small, elusive, ground dwelling thrush whose natural habitats are on subtropical or tropical moist lowland and mountain forests. This bird is very uncommon that Wild Bird Club of the Philippines' Records Committee only recorded 56 sightings from 2004-2009 at merely seven sites including Mt. Makiling. At least five Ashy Thrushes have been recorded in the LME since its first sighting. Birdwatchers were able to observe and document up close the behavior of the bird such as gathering of food, feeding and nesting.

Aside from the Ashy Thrush, other bird species like the Emerald Dove Chalcophaps indica and Scaly-breasted Munia lonchura punctulata were found nesting within the area. There are also newly fledged and young species of Red-bellied Pitta pitta erythrogaster, Grey-backed Tailorbirds Orthotomus derbianus and Mangrove Blue Flycatchers Cyornis rufigaster among other more species.

The continuous presence of Ashy Thrush as well as other bird species in the La Mesa Ecopark highlights the importance of green places within the city that can serve as sanctuaries for wildlife. Yes, even within the busy city of Metro Manila, endemic species can still find their safe haven.

THE GREEN INITIATIVE

In the midst of Bantay Kalikasan's effort to end mining activities in Palawan in 2011, came the realization that as long as Filipinos are impoverished, they will be always be at the risk of engaging in environmentally destructive activities unless they are given alternative livelihood opportunities. This mindset led to the creation of the Green Initiative, a national movement that works to nurture and protect the environment in a way that economically benefits the communities living around it. This movement fosters partnerships between different sectors of society.

The project was introduced to the public last May 6, 2013 through a MoA signing with the initial partners of GI (Bantay Kalikasan, ABS-CBN Broadcasting Corporation, Department of Tourism, Department of Agriculture, Department of Environment and Natural Resources, Ateneo de Manila University, Miss Earth Foundation, Philippine Medical Association.)

Department of Agriculture Secretary Procy Alcala, Department of Tourism Secretary Mon Jimenez, ABS-CBN Broadcasting Corporation CEO & President Charo Santos-Concio, ABS-CBN Lingkod Kapamilya Foundation Chairman Gina Lopez, DENR Secretary Mon Paje and Ateneo de Manila University Acting VP for Loyola Schools and Dean of Science and Engineering Dr. Evangelina Bautista work together to protect the biodiversity and uplift the economic status of the local communities through ecotourism and sustainable development.

PALAWAN: The last frontier in becoming the first model of ecotourism excellence

Puerto Princesa's deep love for nature made it a fertile ground for the development of community-based sustainable tourism. In partnership with ABS-CBN Lingkod Kapamilya's environmental arm, Bantay Kalikasan, the local government has developed Ugong Rock, Bacungan River Cruise, Pambato Reef, Puerto Princesa Bay and Iwahig River, boosting local economy with spill over effects in nearby communities.

The sites in Puerto Princesa sites are simple, natural and basic but are truly spellbinding and unforgettable. The appreciation comes from experiencing the pureness of nature's beauty and the warmth given by the host communities. For thrill seekers, Ugong Rock is the best choice with hours of exploration capped by an exciting zipline ride. For a more relaxed experience, the Bacungan River Cruise offers a picturesque mangrove scenery while enjoying a sumptuous meal on board. Beautiful corals and underwater experience awaits visitors of Pambato Reef, while dolphin-lovers are sure to enjoy Puerto Princesa Bay. Finally, Iwahig River's subtlety brings back childhood memories of star gazing at a clear night sky.

One hundred percent of the eco tourism projects go directly to the community's trust fund to sustain the project. Ugong Rock, with an initial funding of Php1.5Million in 2008, generated a total income of Php23Million in 2013. The increase in income has been consistent in the last four years and a significant amount have been ploughed back via an investment in additional facilities like two new zip lines, a visitor center, boats, rock climbing gears, a clinic, sari-sari store, a restaurant and the construction of additional toilets.

From a handful of beneficiaries, today Ugong now benefits more than 150 families, with each employee earning an average of Php10,000 a month. They also share on a monthly basis Php 30,000 to the barangay which is spent to air more residents within the area. In the case of Iwahig River, each boatman receives an average monthly salary of Php 15,000.

Iwahig Firefly Watching General Manager Janette Garcia shares how the youth also benefitted from ecotourism. "Dati maraming mga estudyante at out of school youth ang nakatambay lang. Tinanong ko sila, 'O gusto nyo bang maging boatmen. Magte-training kayo. Ayun, ngayon sila na ang nagpa-aral sa sarili nila.'" [These youngsters used to slack around doing nothing until I asked them if they want to become boatmen and undergo training. Now, they able to send themselves to school using their earnings.]

Honda Bay Boat Owners Association, Inc. (HBBOAI) Treasurer Annaliza Magbuliño enthused that through the help of eco tourism projects they are now able send their children to school. HBBOAI Vice-President Normie Moreno shared that they were able to upgrade their boats, from 8-seating capacity to 20-seating capacity.

Because of the economic benefits of the projects to the community, residents have leaned to value their role as responsible stewards of nature and the environment. "Hindi lang po kami nakakakuha ng pinagkakakitaan dito kundi naalagaan din po namin ang mangroves, [We do not only get income, we are also able to preserve the mangroves]," Mangrove Ecotourism Service Cooperative Community Guide Marianne Ibrahim expressed.

The business model of Ugong and other Palawan sites are now being shared with other LGUs in areas which have huge eco tourism potential like Sibuyan Island, Sarangani Province, Sorsogon and Masbate. Ecotourism is views as an effective strategy in alleviating people from poverty while taking care of the environment.

PRODUCTS FROM BK COMMUNITIES

To provide livelihood for communities and indigenous people of Brooke's Point Palawan, a VCO plant was built in 2012 with technical support from the Philippine Coconut Authority and DOST and funding support from Congressman Manny Paquiao. The community now supplies VCO to G Stuff, a local brand that promotes products from communities that adhere to sustainable farming practices. It began business last October 13, with its first store in Power Plant, Rockwell in Makati. The VCO is used as the main ingredient of massage oils, scents and cosmetic products. For its food line, G stuff sources its pili nuts from BK communities' farms in Sorsogon and wild honey are sourced from communities in Palawan.

BAYANIJUAN

Southville 7 is a 107-hectare resettlement site in Calauan, Laguna, that is managed by the National Housing Authority (NHA). In 2009, ALKFI forged a partnership with NHA to build a model post-disaster community. Today, through the support of agencies and partners, Bayanijuan sa Southville 7 is now home to more than 2,700 families who were either affected by the rehabilitation of the Pasig River or by the devastation of typhoon Ondoy.

Residents have been provided with housing units that were constructed and rehabilitated through donors, namely San Miguel Corporation, Sunlife Financial Philippines, Zonta Club, Rotary Club of Makati, and the Kingdom of Bahrain. The resettlement site has communal facilities which include a market, livelihood center, training center, community center, grandstand and clinic, among others.

LIVELIHOOD

Livelihood opportunities abound in Southville 7. Two locators - a greeting card exporter and a food manufacturing company - have invested in production facilities and skills training for residents. The greeting card company exports hand made cards to Europe while the food manufacturer processes local crops like macapuno, ube, banana and coconuts. Because of the high demand for ube, residents have likewise started to engage in contract growing.

Cottage industries continue to generate income for a number of Southville 7 residents. "Itikan ni Inay" supplies duck eggs while backyard farmers cultivate an assortment of fresh vegetables. These produce are sold in neighboring towns and in weekend markets in Makati City.

Other residents engage in the cultivation of vetiver grass, which are used in the rehabilitation of the Pasig River and its esteros. Contract growers earn an average of P6,000 - P25,000 every three months.

Some residents work at the Materials Recovery Facility, where they produce concrete pavers for landscaping projects of government agencies such as the Pasig River Rehabilitation Commission.

To pump up economic activity in Southville 7, the Asian Development Bank-Japan Fund for Poverty Reduction (ADB-JFPR) has provided livelihood assistance and social entrepreneurship funds of $207,306 (PHP 9.1 M) which BNJ has been releasing to qualified applicants. Individual assistance is up to P15,000 while group assistance is up to P100,000. Residents are able to fund home based businesses like tailor shops, sari- sari stores and eateries, among others.

HANDMADE CARDS MADE BY THE RESIDENTS OF BAYANIJUAN, SOLD IN GERMANY

Christmas has started early for the residents of BayaniJuan, thanks to the European-based greeting card company who started a production area in the site. The workers produced 150,000 handmade cards, which were brought to Germany in time for the holiday season. Instead of bringing the production to China, the company decided to have the greeting cards done in the country since the handmade papers they use are from the Philippines.

During the last quarter of 2012, the greeting card company sent Filipino designers to train the residents who were former informal settlers from Manila and Pasig.

The operation which started with 60 people in January 2013, now has more than 100 workers. Most of them are housewives and out-of-school youth.

The arrival of the greeting card company in BayaniJuan brought livelihood opportunity in the area. "We are hoping that the job order will continue to come so we could have a joyful Christmas," says Jomar, a 17-year out-of-school youth who gives most of the money he earns to his mother.

Most of the workers making the handmade cards are housewife and out-of-school-youth.

GOVERNANCE

Integral to the community development strategy of BNJ Southville 7, ALKFI crafted a Community Development Plan (CDP) covering the period July 2013 - December 2015. The plan seeks to develop local capacity to:

- Manage peace and order towards providing a safe environment for women and children
- Engage in gainful and sustainable livelihood
- Promote zero waste management and environmental sanitation
- Promote healthy lifestyle
- Enjoy the benefits of a good education

ALKFI, together with the NHA, mobilized community organizers facilitate knowledge sharing among local community stakeholders.

Local governance mechanisms were put in place through the formation of Homeowner's Associations (HOAs). These groups serve as community frontliners that help promote active citizenship in the resettlement site. Aside from the 10 HOAs, Southville 7 also has other Community-Based Organizations such as 10 youth organizations, the Bayanijuan Producers Association (BNJPA) and the Bayanijuan Market Vendors Association.

Barangays Dayap and Santo Tomas deployed 30 Bantay Bayan personnel to help CBOs maintain peace and order in Southville 7. Joining the Bantay Bayan are volunteer marhalls and personnel from the PNP Community Police Action Center.

HEALTH SERVICES

BNJ provides health services to all its residents. The BNJ Clinic is staffed with a doctors, a midwife and nurses provided by the Rural Health Unit of Calauan. Daily, it attends to an average of 40 patients who are likewise given free medicine, vitamins and supplements. There is also a 1,000-day program for maternal and child health. The objective of the program is to improve the health and nutritional status and reduce mortality of the maternal, infant and young child. Eighty percent (80%) of newborn babies in Southville 7 have normal birth weight, compared to the national average of 50%.

PASIG GOVERNMENT DONATES SCHOOL BUILDINGS FOR ONDOY VICTIMS RELOCATED IN CALAUAN

The local government of Pasig donated two three-storey school buildings worth P38 million, benefiting thousands of their former residents displaced by typhoon Ondoy. The structures were a welcome addition to Santo Tomas Elementary School Annex, where most students enrolled came from cities of Pasig and Marikina.

Mayor Maribel Eusebio shared her deep concern to the education of the former Pasig residents. "Giving our children a good education is a responsibility that the Pasig government takes seriously.

Perhaps it is easier to look for a school for your children if you were residing in the city. We know that it is not the case in relocation sites. This is why the local government of Pasig made sure to assist our residents that were transferred here... that is the reason you have these school buildings now. Be assured that if there will be an opportunity for us to help, we will do the best we could... all for the welfare of our former residents."

drawing participants from all over Southville 7 and nearby communities in Laguna. Ultimately, Bayanijuan aims to develop athletes from the community and eventually from the province of Laguna.

KAPIT BISIG PARA SA ILOG PASIG

The transformation of the Pasig River continues as more esteros underwent major clean up and make over in 2013. The concerted efforts of partners, volunteers and benefactors brought back to life the esteros of San Sebastian, UliUli, Sampaloc, Valencia, Pandacan, Concordia and Santibanez. The clean up has also started in Quezon City.

Beyond the changes in the esteros are developments in the lives of the River Warriors. From using dilapidated makeshift styro boats, the warriors now navigate the esteros using fiberglass boats made possible through crowdfunding. Scholarships in commercial cooking and food & beverage service have also transformed 18 River Warriors into River Chefs, giving them access to opportunities to better themselves and their families.

Lastly, the Run for the Pasig River has extended beyond Metro Manila and has expanded its benefits to environmental projects in major cities in the country. It is the first time that the marathon was held in 5 cities which include aside from Quezon City - Cebu, Davao, Bacolod and Los Angeles in the U.S.

REHABILITATION

CROWDFUNDING GIVES NEW BOAT TO RIVER WARRIORS

Crowdfunding is an online resource mobilization strategy whereby various individuals pool resources together over the Internet to support different projects and advocacies. The Spark Project, a start-up crowdfunding community responded to the request of Kapit Bisig Para sa Ilog Pasig to raise money for patrol boats to be used by the River Warriors. The River Warriors used to use makeshift raft and old donated boats made from Marine plywood.

"Iyong aming mga bangka dito sa Estero de Paco ay mga sira na po," said Ruby Cientos, the vice president of the River Warriors in Paco. "Yung mga ginagamit na lang po namin ngayon ay balsa. Napakamahal po kasi ng kanyang maintenance. Ang isang Marine plywood po is nasa P3,000 po."

Antonio Peñalosa shared his experience when there was no boat for him to use during one clean-up. "Inabot kong pilit yung basura doon sa gitna, na-outbalance ako. Diretso ako sa tubig," Penalosa said. "Hanggang leeg ang tubig sa headwater. Nakaligo ako ng 'di oras." "Pagka maganda ang bangka, ang trabaho natin, maayos," explained River Warrior Alexander Pertes. "Mahabang-mahaba ang matatrabaho mong estero. Makukuha mo lahat ang basura sa estero."

Today, the River Warriors are happy with their new fiberglass boats courtesy of crowd funding.

RIVER WARRIORS

The presence of the River Warriors in various communities along the esteros represent what community involvement can do to sustain and develop a project. Aside from taking the lead in clean up activities and patrolling the esteros, the River Warriors have played a very important role in influencing and inspiring the residents to keep the esteros clean. It was through their one on one, house to house interaction that made the community become well aware of their own role and responsibility in reviving the Pasig River.

To date, KBPIP has trained 526 River Warriors which were deployed to different esteros. 119 of these River Warriors were trained in 2013:

FROM WARRIORS TO CHEFS

For two months, from six until nine in the evening, eighteen River Warriors from Estero de Paco attend classes in commercial cooking and food & beverage service in TESDA-accredited PSAA International Academy, after doing their day shift in river patrolling, community organizing, and clean-ups. The river warriors were able to avail of scholarships from Accenture as part of their Skills to Succeed Program. PSAA International Academy provided a discount on the course fee as well as free additional food and beverage service training. The new chefs now have national TESDA certifications.

"The main objective of our program is to give skills to individuals around the world, so that they can get a job or build their own businesses, explained Janelle Sunico, the Corporate Citizenship Lead for Accenture in the ASEAN region. You can really see the pride in the graduates. Now, they're able to dream of something bigger for their future."

During their graduation, ABS-CBN Foundation Managing Director told the new chefs, "I want the River Warriors in Warrior chefs with representatives from (front L-R) Accenture's Corporate Citizenship arm Emerson Enriquez and Janelle Sunico, PSAA President Riza Sorima, ABS-CBN Foundation Managing Director Gina Lopez, Kapit Bisig para sa Ilog Pasig Project Director Grace Sumalpong, Senior TESDA Specialist Rosario Barbiera, and Instructor Chef Rhea Filamor.

Estero de Paco to be the example, maging halimbawa sa integridad, sa pagsisikap, sa pagtutulong-tulongan, sa pagmamahalan."

The River Warrior chefs were given a corner in the palutuan section of Paco Market where they sell the food they have prepared. They likewise cater during the training of River Warriors from other esteros.

Key to the successful rehabilitation of the Pasig River is an effective relocation program for informal settlers of the esteros. Aside from being the major cause of the accumulation of solid waste onto the water, the informal structures block the natural flow of waterways.

In 2013, a total of 778 informal structure families coming from Estero de Concordia and Estero de Pandacan were relocated to BayaniJuan sa Southville 7 in Calauan, Lauguna. To prepare the families for their transfer, a pre-relocation dialogue was conducted by KBPIP.

ESTERO MANAGEMENT

In 2013, 16 esteros underwent rehabilitation by the PRRC and KBPIP.

The riverbed are dredged to remove accumulated sludge. Islands reactors are installed to oxygenate the waters and coco coir are used to stabilize the slopes of the easement. After the esteros are cleared of informal structures, a 3-meter linear walkway is created. Murals, ornamental plants and pavers provide pleasing aesthetics.

THE QUEZON CITY TRIBUTARY CLEAN UP BEGINS

Alongside the clean-ups in Manila, KBPIP supported the Pasig River Rehabilitation Commission in starting the rehabilitation of the esteros of Quezon City. The first estero to be cleaned is Dario Creek located in Brgy. San Antonio in Quezon City. The creek drains into the San Juan River and eventually into the Pasig River.

"Maraming salamat sa nakilahok, nagmalasakit at lumusong sa ating ilog," said Lala Lendio, KBPIP's IEC officer and community organizer for Brgy. San Antonio. "Hindi imposibleng malinis ang ilog kung sama-samang nagtutulungan".

KBPIP has a materials recovery facility (MRF) in Brgy. San Antonio donated by Goldilocks and now being managed by the barangay. This MRF captures around 50% of the solid waste in the area.

ONE RUN, ONE PHILIPPINES

As part of ABS-CBN's 60th anniversary celebration, Kapit Bisig Para sa Ilog Pasig (KBPIP), Regional Network Group (RNG) and The Filipino Channel (TFC) staged "One Run, One Philippines" a five-city advocacy run last October 6, 2013. It was held simultaneously in Quezon City, Cebu City, Bacolod City, Davao City, and Los Angeles (USA). The run was held to draw public attention to the clamor for the protection of various environmental advocacies and raise funds for various environmental projects.

KBPIP has organized four successful runs for the Pasig River and had raised a total of P25.94 million. In 2009, the fun run funded the initial phase of Estero de Paco's clean-up, while the historic "10.10.10 Run for the Pasig River" funded the second phase and even broke the Guinness World Record for the "most number of participants in a running event" with 116,086 runners. The funds raised in 2011 and 2012 Runs for the Pasig River have been utilized in the efforts to support the PRRC in the rehabilitation of 16 tributaries of the Pasig River in Quezon City and Manila including Estero de San Miguel and four others behind the Malacañan Palace. Proceeds from One Run, One Philippines will be used for various advocacies. The Cebu leg will benefit coastal conservation in Daan Paz; the Davao leg will support the ecotourism projects in Marilog Tourist Center; the Bacolod leg will help the mangrove and livelihood projects in Punta Taytay, Sum-ag River rehabilitation, and ecotourism projects in Bacolod City Water District Campuestuhan Watershed; while the Los Angeles leg will fund the Green Initiative of Bantay Kalikasan.

PROGRAMA GENIO

From campaigning for media assisted instruction in the public elementary school system through E-Media, ABS-CBN Lingkod Kapamilya Foundation's program for education evolved into a more comprehensive and cohesive one on one school intervention program through Programa Genio. Named in honor of ABS-CBN founder and former Chairman Eugenio Lopez Jr, the program was launched in 2012 and has been heavily involved with curriculum enhancement, teacher training and learning resource development.

In 2013, Programa Genio went full swing with its alternative education program through ALS (Alternative Learning System) of the Department of Education. The program has successfully produced passers from resettlement Communities of BayaniJuan (BNJ). Programa Genio has also been heavily involved in the Distribution of Supplementary Instructional Materials (ETV Packages), Monitoring & Consultancy, and Parental Involvement Seminars.

Among Programa Genio's significant accomplishments in 2013 is the exemplary performance of students of Sto. Tomas Elementary School Annex (STESA), Taliptip Elementary School and Dayap Elementary Annex School in district and division-wide competitions and both academic and sports. Alongside is the recognition of three teachers from Taliptip ES as the district's Outstanding Teachers during the celebration of World Teacher's Day.

SCHOOLS AND CLASSES SUPPORTED BY PROGRAMA GENIO

Programa Genio's intervention in the schools it supports depend on their individual needs. Their activities range from the provision of school supplies and books, teacher training, gift giving, curriculum enhancement and feeding. The needs are identified based on an assessment conducted by the team in consultation with the school administration officers and the Division Offices of the Department of Education.

ALTERNATIVE LEARNING SYSTEM

The Alternative Learning System (ALS) provides continuing educational opportunities for school dropouts, out of school youth and adults who are not able to finish their basic education. In 2013, a total of 62 learners enrolled in the ALS Program at Firstville in Site 1 and Santo Tomas Elementary School-Annex in Site 3 of Southville 7-BayaNiJuan. During the November 2013 Accreditation and Equivalency Test given by the Department of Education and Bureau of Alternative Learning System, two students passed the elementary level and ten others passed the secondary level. Passers have either pursued further studies or employment.

Euvigildo Duyag qualified for scholarship from the Bantay Edukasyon program of Bantay Bata 163. He is currently enrolled in Laguna State Polytechnic University, taking up Bachelor of Science in Information Technology. Elementary level passers, Joseph Bolima and Cris Ian Javier continue their education at Firstville ALS Learning Center hoping to pass the high school level in the next A & E Test on December 14, 2014. They too have plans to finish college once they pass the equivalency test.

DAY CARE CENTERS

Early Childhood Education, through the development of the cognitive, motor and psychosocial skills, is the foundation of a well-rounded child. In June 2013, Programa Genio in partnership with the Department of Social Welfare and Development began to manage two Day Care Centers in Southville 7-BayaNiJuan- Firstville and SMC Day Care Centers. A total of 174 students completed the school year. After graduation, the students are able to have a much easier transition to kinder level. Positive feedbacks from teachers and parents have said that the learners who come from BNJ-PG DCC are able to perform very well in OML Dayap Annex. Students such as Janel Graciela M. Jaca, Angel Heart M. Vergara, and Mio Shan L. Velasco are among those who were mentioned academically performing well in OML Dayap. Programa Genio's education programs along with the mandated DSWD curriculum has paved the way for young children to have the pre-requisite reading readiness skills for their transfer. Programa Genio's goal is to have a holistic and fun program that allows children to be nurtured in loving environment that enables to bring out the best of them.

SUMMER CLASSES

In response to the need on a continuing education programs in the community during the summer break, Programa Genio offered summer classes for the first time for students in BNJ Calauan. The children enrolled in the summer classes were equipped with the necessary skills for the next school year. STESA, SMC and Firstville Summer Classes had 25, 59 and 45 students respectively who had been given enrichment skills in Language, Mathematics and Arts for six consecutive weeks. The summer classes also provided creative activities through art and play. The school provides the educational activities and learning since their home is unable to provide this. Thus making these classes very important.

EXTENSION CLASSES

Extension Classes in Santo Tomas Elementary School Annex was opened to support children who are unable to cope with the regular classes. These children are in need of guidance since most often than not, their parents are unable to assist them. Parents prioritize their livelihood for their family, living the children alone at home. Initially, 46 students were identified by their classroom teachers to have difficulty in different subject areas. Students were taught in a smaller group beginning with the formative topics they had difficulty with. Eventually, students are able follow the flow of the discussion in their respective classes. Learners from Sto. Tomas Annex and SMC Ville who needed the additional guidance in their studies were assisted.

Thirty-nine interested students had been initially under the care of PG-SMC Extension Classes. Students who attended the extension classes are able to participate in their regular classes with much confidence to meet their academic requirements. The one-on-one follow up enables the students to understand and retain the lessons at hand. More so, it is the attention given by teachers that plays a big factor in making them a better student.

SAGIP KAPAMILYA

2013 the Philippines experienced the devastation of the worst typhoon that ever hit the country. Typhoon Yolanda or Haiyan affected more than 16 million people in 44 provinces. The total cost of damage in infrastructure and agriculture in the Visayas is P36.6 billion with death toll reaching 6,190.

In 2013, the public responded to appeals made by ABS-CBN through its Tulong Na, Tabang Na campaign, raising more than 1.5 billion pesos donation in cash and in kind for Sagip Kapamilya. It is probably the biggest donation raised by any Filipino NGO for the victims of the super typhoon. A true testament of the public's trust in ABS-CBN.

Several other disasters happened within the year – typhoons Maring, Santi, Labuyo, the Bohol earthquake and the Zamboanga crisis. Sagip Kapamilya came to the aid of affected families through series of relief operations together with the military and countless volunteers.

As part of its long term rehabilitation efforts in calamity affected areas, Sagip Kapamilya built a total of 122 classrooms in 56 public schools nationwide through its Gusto Kong Mag Aral School Building Project. To complement this project, it also conducted school feeding sessions through its Sagip Kalusugan Supplemental Feeding Program which was implemented in 32 schools in selected cities and provinces benefitting 6,471 undernourished children.

Sagip Kapamilya concluded 2013 by starting on ground assessments of Yolanda devastated areas for its medium and long term rebuilding interventions utilizing funds received from donors worldwide.

RELIEF EFFORTS

Sagip Kapamilya provides immediate, appropriate and timely assistance during emergencies. It serves individuals and communities affected by typhoons, fire incidents and internal conflicts. Its large scale relief missions in 2013 served more than 4 million individuals across the country.

YOLANDA

Typhoon Yolanda is one of the strongest tropical cyclones in history. It is the deadliest Philippine typhoon on record, the strongest storm recorded at landfall and unofficially, the strongest typhoon in terms of wind speed. The eye of the cyclone made its first land fall in the Philippines at Guiuan, Eastern Samar on November 8, 2013.

Even before typhoon Yolanda entered the Philippine Area of Responsibility, Sagip Kapamilya has prepositioned its relief goods in key areas in Luzon and Visayas. With the help of the Philippine Army, thousands of relief packs were ready for dispatch within 24 hours after Yolanda's massive destruction.

In support of Sagip Kapamilya's relief efforts, ABS-CBN was quick to rally its various media platforms to help respond to the crisis. ABS-CBN News, RNG, TFC, DZMM, ABS-CBN News.com and even its new telecommunication group ABS-CBN Mobile were utilized to provide information and appeal for public support. The Sales and Marketing Team launched the "Tulong Na, Tabang Na Shirt" which were given as tokens to donors who donated to Sagip Kapamilya. More than P200M was raised from the shirts, with orders coming from as far as Europe, the U.S. and the Middle East.

Aid came to Yolanda survivors through land, sea and air, with the military and private companies volunteering transport and cargo services to help millions who were affected by the storm surge. Repacking of relief items - food, water, blankets, medicine and clothing - by thousands of volunteers went round the clock for weeks as donations from all over the world kept pouring in Sagip Kapamilya's warehouse. To accommodate the massive quantities of goods, the Pinoy Big Brother House along Eugenio Lopez Drive and a warehouse in Fairview, Quezon city were converted into receiving and repacking stations manned by employees of ABS-CBN and its subsidiaries.

After providing relief assistance, Sagip Kapamilya will embark on long term projects that will help build back better the areas devastated by Yolanda. The rebuilding has three major components - livelihood, education and housing. The project involves the provision of fishing boats and patrol boats, organic farming, ecotourism school and home rebuilding/building, weaving and soft programs on education among others. The rehabilitation projects will commence January 2014.
