MESSAGE FROM THE ABS-CBN
CHAIRMAN

Our commitment to integrity, honesty and transparency has been reciprocated, because at the moment the world came to aid millions of Filipinos, they chose to trust ABS-CBN.

After Yolanda, I now look at ABS-CBN a little differently. In its 60-year history never have I seen such an overwhelming manifestation of the public's trust in our organization, until now.

When news about the gruesome devastation broke over our programs, the response of people was immediate and spontaneous. They came in droves as if instinctively, with in-kind donations which filled our compound, the Pinoy Big Brother House and the Lingkod Kapamilya Foundation warehouse beyond their capacity. To accommodate the massive volume of goods, we had to direct donors to Bayantel's warehouse in Fairview.

Every Filipino wanted to help. ABS-CBN's Tulong Na, Tabang Na campaign became a platform for thousands of donors and volunteers. They came to pack relief goods or to buy a shirt. Some chose to watch a benefit concert or donate to our telethon. In just a few days, Tulong Na, Tabang Na raised more than a billion pesos in cash and in-kind donations.

Over a year since the typhoon, we see the hard work ABS-CBN Lingkod Kapamilya Foundation, Inc. (ALKFI) has put into rebuilding the lives of those who survived. It brought together four of its six Programs - Bantay Kalikasan, Bantay Bata, Programa Genio and Sagip Kapamilya to take part in the rehabilitation efforts in four towns in Samar and Leyte. This, alongside their other various public service activities all over the country. From the thousands of fishing boats distributed, the hundreds of schools built, and the many interventions implemented at the grassroots level, we are proud to see how the donations entrusted to us were put into good use. ALKFI brought the cause of the environment at the center of its rehabilitation program to help build back better communities. Communities that are empowered, self sufficient, prepared and willing to work together to make the positive changes permanent.

Yolanda will go down in history as the most catastrophic calamity our country has seen. For ABS-CBN, it will be a reminder that our dedication in serving the Filipino in the last six decades has not gone unnoticed. That our commitment to integrity, honesty and transparency has been reciprocated, because at the moment the world came to aid millions of Filipinos, they chose to trust ABS-CBN.

MESSAGE FROM THE LINGKOD KAPAMILYA CHAIRMAN

Greetings. Another year has gone by and our dreams have not diminished. In fact they've grown in strength and lustre.

The dream that increasingly "lights my fire" and fills my heart is the vision of our Philippines with our rich, beautiful resources intact and our people not only out of poverty, but healthy, united, loving each other and working with one another. WOW, right?

The future belongs to those who dream. This particular dream unfailingly and consistently not only inspires but gets people to work together because the dream is so inclusive that there is something for everyone to do. ALKFI, and its partners together with ABS CBN, the biggest media conglomerate in the country, has the ability to spread the dream and widen our pockets of success towards this spirit of Hope - Pwede Pala! Kaya Pala Natin!

We are entering our 26th year... from silver inching towards ruby - and then eventually getting to gold! The way to get there is to spread our network of like-minded individuals and institutions across all sectors: private and public so that national impact is obtained without having only one sector of society carry the burden of increasing costs.

I am also very much in favor of social entrepreneurship. I see this as a main stalwart of our development process. We have communities that are 98% women, no read, no write - now enjoying financial successes that can equal growth rates big businesses see in the country. How did they do it? Yes we helped but they had guts, passion, determination - and integrity. They had the golden vessel of character which turns help into gold.

Our communities need to make money - and they need to do it with their values intact.

In closing I would like to invite everyone to come and visit our islands, help us boost the economy towards inclusive growth - and do that while having the time of your lives. By this year we will have Sorsogon, Samar, Leyte, Mindoro and Carles ready! Call us, we will take care of you.

Regina L. Lopez

We dream. We move together. We make our hopes come true. We leave a legacy.

MESSAGE FROM THE MANAGING DIRECTOR

Wearing the mantle of ALKFI leadership for a year now has been both a challenge and a rewarding experience for me. It is challenging because there is expectation from all stakeholders to steer the Foundation to new heights in furthering its mission. It is rewarding because I got to witness firsthand the significant transformation in the lives of our beneficiaries especially in the areas devastated by Typhoon Yolanda.

The tasks of the programs continue to be relevant in the face of the devastating effects of climate change and the clamour for national transformation. Therefore, we need to make the programs stronger, more sustainable and flexible to the needs of the beneficiaries. In order to do this, we must continue to promote transparency, give premium to social impact and quality delivery of services and commitments, and consistently practice fiduciary discipline. With these, we will be able to sustainably deliver our projects and advocacies and increase the number of donors and partners who will donate and work with us. This paradigm will ultimately enable us to effect transformation in the lives of our countrymen and the country as a whole. I will continue to uphold the vision, mission and goals of the Foundation guided by transparency, fiduciary discipline and focus on social impact. I am certain that with these guiding principles, ALKFI will continue to improve its services for the Filipino people.

In conclusion, I would like to offer a proverbial SILVER garland to all the people who helped ALKFI reach what it has accomplished so far. From the employees who remain committed to the Institution and its advocacies, our donors, partners, stakeholders and all who share our values, THANK YOU!

Clarissa G. Ocampo

We continue to promote transparency, give premium to social impact and quality delivery of services and commitments, and consistently practice fiduciary discipline.

Bantay Bata 163

Sheila Estabillo, OIC

Asia's model for child welfare services, Bantay Bata marked its 17th year in 2014. It was a year of significant changes and transitions particularly in operations and leadership.

Tina Monzon Palma, Bantay Bata's esteemed Program Director who led the program since its inception in 1997 reached the mandatory retirement age for ABS-CBN Executives, retired together with her Deputy Director, Girlie Aragon in 2014. Both are credited with the establishment of the Bantay Bata's wide network of partners, supporters and benefactors all over the world. As Palma and Aragon strictly adhere to transparency and operational efficiency, Bantay Bata was able to establish itself as a highly credible, competent and respected child welfare agency touching the lives of over 1 million children in its 17 years of service.

Aside from her role as Program Director, Palma hosted Bantay Bata's daily updates on Bantay Bata's medical patients, events, partnerships and donors over ANC (ABS-CBN News Channel) until her retirement. Meanwhile, Aragon who joined Bantay Bata in 2000, handled the operations of the Bantay Bata Children's Village in Norzagaray, Bulacan. The Village housed rescued children undergoing rehabilitation and treatment and those who cannot be reintegrated with their families. She also handled the operations of Bantay Bata's helpline, 163.

Through the years, Bantay Bata has created several modules for parents and educators for its community outreach caravans in an effort to raise awareness on children's rights. These, together with its wealth of experience in handling thousands of cases - from assessment to rehabilitation, rescue to reintegration or adoption, spawned the idea of creating the region's first center dedicated to the study of child protection welfare management - Asia's Center for the Child. For this purpose, the Children's Village was closed and is now in the early stages of conversion. Children who were temporarily sheltered at the Village have found new homes in Bantay Bata's various network of caring agencies.

HOTLINE 163

Seventeen years since the first report came through the Helpline 163, Bantay Bata continues to receive reports from the public on cases of child abuse and other concerns. In 2014, a total of 11,625 reports were received and acted upon.

163 is a toll free nationwide helpline. It provides immediate response to cases of child abuse through rescue, online counseling and referrals handled by trained social workers. The Helpline validates the report, assesses the risks to the child and activates the rescue operations unit. Aside from telephone counseling for both parents and children, Helpline 1-6-3 provides proper channeling of child-oriented concerns to government and private institutions.

Bantay Kalikasan

Norie Garcia, Program Director

ABS-CBN Lingkod Kapamilya Foundation, Inc. recognizes the important role of conserving the environment in achieving sustainable development. In partnership with various public and private institutions, innovative environmental projects are implemented to address not just symptoms but also root causes of environmental problems.

The reforestation of the La Mesa Nature Reserve began in 1999. Of its 2,700 hectares, Bantay Kalikasan (BK) was able to successfully reforest 1,552 hectares. It has likewise developed a 33-hectare Ecopark within La Mesa to sustain the reforestation of the watershed. It provides the general public nature appreciation, recreation and learning opportunities.

In 2014, BK commissioned a study that identified the progress, sustainability and impact of the Save the La Mesa Watershed Project. The results of the study provided insights for Bantay Kalikasan and its partners - Metropolitan Waterworks and Sewerage System (MWSS), Manila Water, Maynilad and the Quezon City Government on the effects of the project to the environment, local tourism and biodiversity.

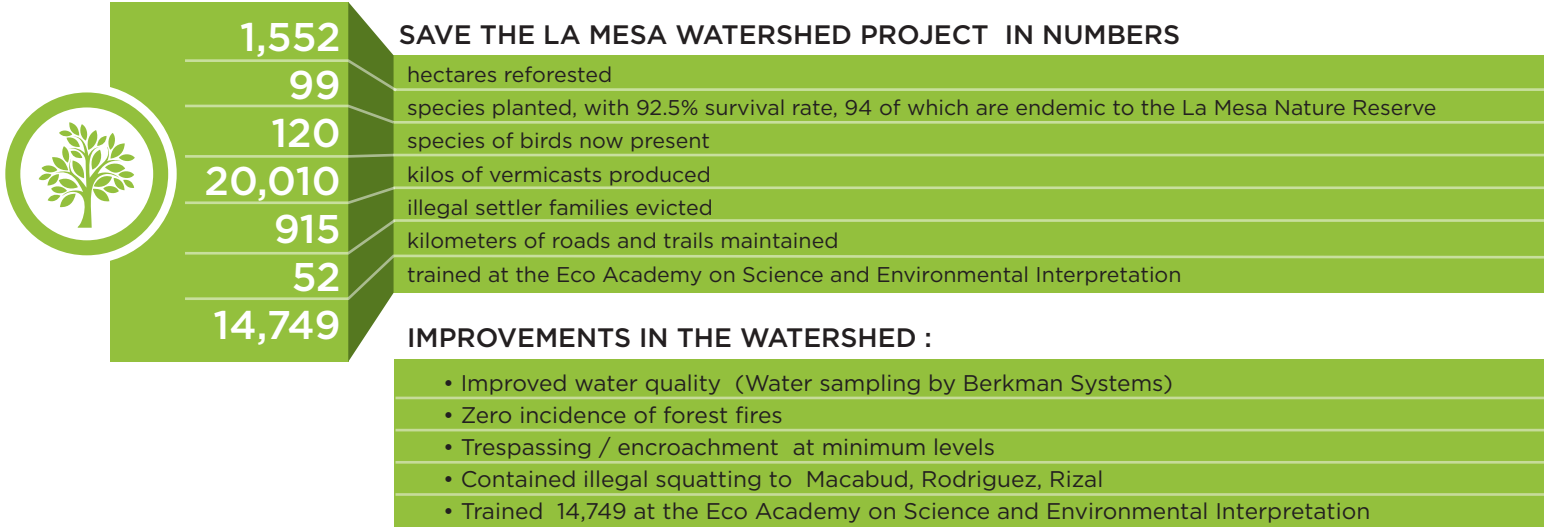

Clockwise: Shell Flower Terraces at La Mesa Ecopark; Wild White Water tubing Adventure in Saranggani; B'laan Tribe; La Mesa Forest

The Green Initiative was launched in 2013 to promote community-managed eco tourism in the country. It envisions a Philippines with well-protected and enriched ecosystems where citizens are happy, out of poverty, infused with the right values, and with genuine love for country. It is seen as an opportunity to showcase local culture, sites and cuisine. Today, The Green Initiative is present in 13 provinces and 30 municipalities with 160 participating community organizations.

The Bantay Baterya and Bantay Langis campaigns have been a major source of funds for the environment projects of BK. The benefits are threefold: economic, social and environmental. In 2014, a total of Php 11.3 million has been raised, through the recycling and repurposing of used lead acid batteries, industrial and engine oil. These toxic materials could have gone to landfills, exposing the public to safety and health hazards.

LA MESA ECO PARK AND NATURE RESERVE

BANTAY KALIKASAN: 15 YEARS AT LA MESA

The La Mesa Nature Reserve is a government-owned property titled under the MWSS. It spans the boundaries of Quezon City, Caloocan City, and Municipality of Montalban and the provinces of Bulacan, and Rizal. It is the transit point of water coming from three other watersheds: Umiray, Angat, and Ipo. It houses the filtration plant that distributes water to 5 cities and 32 municipalities or about 12 million residents in Metro Manila. It is also the only remaining forest of its size in Metro Manila.

Due to inadequate watershed protection, a significant number of planted forest trees were illegally harvested and massive areas were converted into agricultural croplands. By May 1999, illegal settlers were occupying wide tracts of land while engaging in slash-and-burn farming and timber poaching. The watershed area was gravely destroyed. In response, Bantay Kalikasan started a reforestation program on June 21, 1999.

Some of the various activities that tourists enjoy at La Mesa Ecopark: calesa and horseback riding, water bike ride at Neptune pond and fishing at the lagoon.

Fifteen years since the Save the La Mesa Watershed campaign was launched, we see the tremendous transformation of La Mesa. Once denuded, the forest is now lush, teeming with life, with hundreds of species of birds, plants and insects living in the area. It is now considered as a “carbon sink” as it absorbs 3% of the total carbon emissions of Metro Manila.

Several structures and facilities have been developed. A once abandoned 33-hectare area was converted into an Ecopark with a swimming pool complex, amphitheatre, Eco Center and biking trails. Tourists also enjoy visits to the Butterfly Haven and the Adventure Zone where they can rapel, slide or ride a zipline. The park enjoys high visitor traffic with almost three million visitors since the park opened raising an average of Php 25 Million pesos every year. The income from the park is used to sustain the reforestation of the watershed. A total of Php 429 Million was raised by Bantay Kalikasan and its partners for both the La Mesa Watershed and the Eco Park since 1999.

Photographer Anthony Balbin shares photos of King Fisher Birds found at the La Mesa Ecopark. “LMEP is one of the bird havens in the Metro. How lucky I am that I saw these birds in the wild!” Bird watchers and photographers from all over the country and overseas frequent the La Mesa Ecopark.

THE GREEN INITIATIVE

“I continue to be convinced that we can have a country without poverty. We have the resources to do it. We just have to work together and we need honesty at the helm. It can be done.”

- Gina Lopez

The Green Initiative has two missions: To orchestrate harmonious, dynamic, cooperative and constructive partnerships with the different sectors of society to preserve and protect the amazing Philippine biodiversity using poverty alleviation as a strategy; To use advocacy and media to transform the Filipino mind and inspire the Filipino heart into genuinely believing that taking care of the environment is the path to quality of life.

It was in 2008 when Bantay Kalikasan began engaging local communities in eco tourism projects. In partnership with the Local Government of Palawan and the Department of Tourism, it launched five attractions namely Dolphin Watching at Honda Bay, Bacungan Rive Cruise, Snorkeling at Pambato Reef, Firefly Watching at Iwahig River and Adventures at Ugong Rock. From a total of over a thousand visitors, these sites today enjoy close to 30 times the number of tourists, propelling local income at its highest. Ugong Rock Adventures, considered as BK’s most successful eco tourism model, has raked in a total of P30 MILLION in gross revenue from its seed money of P2.5 MILLION at the beginning of the project.

The Green Initiative endeavors to preserve biodiversity, secure livelihood, community cohesion & participation and advocacy. Key protected areas include:

- Mt. Guiting Guting Ecosystems (Sibuyan, Romblon)
- Sohoton Natural Bridge and National Park (Basey, Samar)
- Bacungan River and Mangrove Forest (Puerto Princesa, Palawan)
- Mangrove Reforestation (Sorsogon, Masbate, Samar, Leyte, Palawan)
- Forest and River Ecosystems (South Cotabato, Sarangani, Mindoro, Samar)
- Marine Ecosystem Rehabilitation (Samar, Masbate, Leyte, Palawan)
- Marine Ecosystem Protection (Patrol Boats in Yolanda areas)

In 2014, Bantay Kalikasan launched several attractions in areas considered to be “at the heart” of the Philippine archipelago namely - Mindoro, Palawan and Romblon. To jumpstart the campaign, it offered pilot tours in April -May of 2014. Dubbed as “Journey to the Heart of the Philippines” the travel packages included visit to several falls - Dagubdub, Lambingan and Bila Bila. Beach hopping at Romblon, Romblon and discovering the local cuisine and culture.

The communities continue to develop new attractions and activities in partnership with their local government units and Bantay Kalikasan.

L-R: B'laan woman showcase their traditional weaving; White Water Tubing in Saranggani; BK provides livelihood for 30 People's Organization Members and 38 local farmers in Brooke's Point, Palawan, Ugong Rock Adventure.

Communities in seven provinces were trained in organizational development, financial management, health, tour guiding and biochar. Local knowledge and practices were likewise enhanced to increase opportunities in the area. The Community Organizations are now registered or in the process of registration for Food and Drug Administration and Cooperative Development Authority and other accreditation bodies.

BANTAY KALIKASAN ADVOCACY

Bantay Kalikasan established an advocacy unit to complement the project implementation of La Mesa Watershed, Eco Park and Green Initiative and ensure the engagement of the various stakeholders. The BK advocacy supports environmental legislation and other environmental advocacy campaigns.

The Advocacy Unit has three major thrusts. First, the creation of a network of like-minded eco tourism practitioners, second is the integration of climate change adaption and disaster risk reduction management and the completion of the Anti-Mining campaign.

BANTAY BATERYA AND BANTAY LANGIS

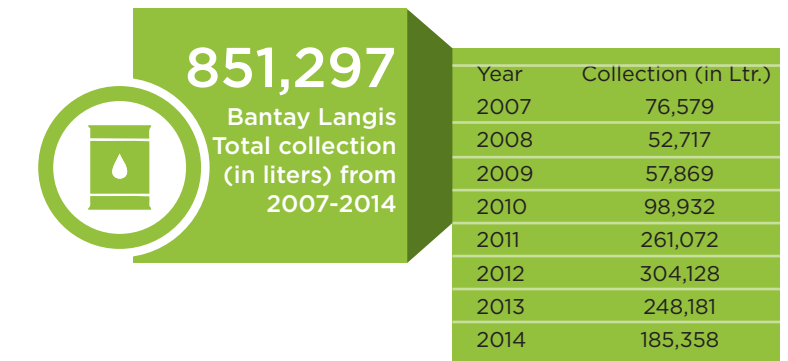

BANTAY BATERYA was launched in October 2000 with a tripartite partnership between Bantay Kalikasan, the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR) and Philippine Recyclers Incorporated (PRI). The objectives of the project are; promote awareness of the urgent need for responsible toxic waste disposal, eradicate dangerous environmental pollutants and collect used lead-acid batteries for recycling into fresh raw materials for the production of new batteries. The value of the reprocessed batteries are subsequently donated to BK for its various environmental undertakings.

BANTAY LANGIS Project was launched in November 2007. Operating along the same principle as Bantay Baterya, Bantay Langis aims to collect used industrial oils for proper disposal and recycling.

BENEFITS OF RECYCLING USED OIL

Recycling used oil can save us up to 90% of usable petroleum-based materials. It can also lower the importation of oil to as much as 75% and can save as much as 25% in cost as an alternative fuel.

Bayanijuan

Life in Southville 7 can be described as dichotomous. Many families who struggled in frequent evacuations while living along the esteros of the Pasig River now find themselves in a much healthier and peaceful environment. From informal settlers, former estero residents now see themselves as legitimate homeowners that actively participate in community activities.

For other families, adjusting in a resettlement site two hours from Manila still presents a challenge to their lives. Limited work opportunities and access to basic utilities make families worried about the future. Despite the challenges and inconveniences, residents remain hopeful that conditions will improve.

In five years, the changes in the lives of the residents are evident. The fresh crisp air helped heal many children who first came to Calauan with respiratory illnesses. Feeding programs undertaken by Programa Genio and Sagip Kapamilya have significantly improved the health of severely wasted students in Day Care Centers and two elementary schools. And the availability of facilities like SM Health and Wellness Center gave mothers and their children access to regular natal and maternal care.

Leah Bautista, OIC

Project partners have continued supporting programs in Southville 7. The Asian Development Bank, through a grant from the Japan Fund for Poverty Reduction, has extended livelihood assistance in the Community Innovation Fund (CIF) and the Community Assistance Fund. Likewise, residents received skills training from Eurotel, Entrepinoy Volunteers Foundation, Technical Education and Skills Development Authority (TESDA) and National Housing Authority (NHA). And for the thousands of faithful, Lopez Group of Companies Chairman Emeritus Oscar Lopez gifted them the Chapel of Two Hearts as their venue for fellowship and communion with fellow residents.

GOING THROUGH GLENDA

Lilibeth Bando's house was among those destroyed by Typhoon Glenda on July 2014. Recounting her experience that day, Lilibeth said, "Nakita namin na inaangat ng hangin ang bubong." Together with her six children, she prayed for their safety. Hours later, two of her neighbors came asking for help. "Mama, huwag mong buksan ang pinto kasi baka yung bahay naman natin ang bumigay" said one of her children. But moved by compassion and the spirit of Bayanihan, Lilibeth decided to open the door and let their neighbors come in. Four families took refuge in Lilibeth's house.

In July 2014, several houses in Zontaville and Sunlife Village were destroyed by Typhoon Glenda. Habitat for Humanity has pledged to rebuild the damaged structures using an improved design and stronger materials.

In July 2014, typhoon Glenda destroyed several houses in Southville 7. It was a challenging time for many, but it was also a defining moment for the community. Residents took in their neighbors, shared what they could and showed little acts of kindness. ALKFI, meanwhile, transferred affected families to vacant housing units, distributed relief packs to all Southville 7 residents and extended medical assistance to those who needed treatment. Project partners such as Habitat for Humanity, LGFI, Rockwell Land, Energy Development Corporation and Ambassador Manolo M. Lopez have also committed to rebuild damaged houses and community facilities.

Lilibeth cried when she saw the extent of the damage to their community. Despite what happened, she acknowledged the support given during the evacuation and relief operations. Lilibeth and her neighbors were given temporary houses by the National Housing Authority while the damaged houses were rebuilt by Habitat for Humanity. "Hindi kami pinabayaan ng BNJ, pinagawa kaagad yung bahay namin".

Lilibeth Bando's family and 42 other households returned back to their newly-reconstructed houses in January 2015. The units, which were designed and rebuilt by Habitat for Humanity, were funded by Zonta Club of Makati and Environs

A sari sari store at Palengke ni Juan

There is much to be desired in Southville 7, but several studies have highlighted some bright spots in the Calauan resettlement site. A case study on Palengke ni Juan (Environs Systems Group, 2015), a community-managed market inside Southville 7, reported an increase in net income by most vendors. Before venturing in Palengke ni Juan, stall owners were only collectively earning PHP 247,200 a month. Three years later, their monthly net income reached PHP 426,300. One vegetable vendor, for instance, was only getting PHP 6,000 a month in 2012 but managed to raise her net profits to PHP 25,000 by the end of 2014.

The Environs Systems research also featured the production of greeting cards in Southville 7. The project initiated by A Greeting Card Co. created jobs for 1,000 residents from February 2013 to February 2015. In 2014 alone, 410,000 cards were produced, equivalent to PHP 1.04 million in wages paid to the workers. When asked about the impact of greeting cards project in their lives, one worker shared, "I used it for my kid's school allowance and for the family to get by when my husband did not have work." Another one, meanwhile, invested her earnings in her livelihood: "I bought my own sewing machine which I used for my own business."

Five years into the resettlement project, Bayanijuan is focused on incorporating community governance in Southville 7 by capacitating and strengthening community-based organizations. Officials of homeowners associations were introduced to Participatory Resource Appraisal (PRA) tools, which helped them produce Community Development Plans (CDP) for resource allocation in the local government. The Bayanijuan Producers Association, meanwhile, was represented by its officers to the Trainers' Training in Grassroots Entrepreneurship Management (GEM), a nine-day course that covers modules on fostering an entrepreneurial mindset and understanding personal wealth management. Developed by Bayan Academy, GEM was instrumental in improving loan repayments in the ADB-supported Community Innovation Fund. Through these interventions, community-based organizations will hopefully become more effective in the delivery of services in Southville 7.

Project partners continued to extend skills training and livelihood assistance to residents in Southville 7 through conducting 14 livelihood activities in 2014. Eurotel organized a skills training in housekeeping for 16 residents, in which all of them passed the National Certification II accreditation test administered by the Technical Education and Skills Development Authority (TESDA). Eurotel managing director William Go is confident about employment opportunities available to the trainees, saying "This certification is a guarantee that they can already be employed because NCII is recognized not only in the Philippines but (also overseas)."

As of 31 December 2014, Bayanijuan, through Bayan Edge, released Php 4.5 million in CIF loans, covering 556 individual accounts. Total repayments amount to P 2.3 million, with 157 individuals classified as good payers and 399 others as delinquent borrowers. Thanks to GEM, repayments among the 97 trained borrowers increased, with 87% of them receiving good payment records. Bayanijuan plans to extend the GEM training to existing and would-be CIF borrowers.

“Nasa kamay ninyo ang ikagaganda ng kinabukasan ninyo. Wag kayong mahihiyang magtanong kung may mga opportunities na pwede ninyong ma-avail. Wag ninyong hayaang hadlangan ng kahirapan ang magandang kinabukasan.”

- Jessica, BNJ Scholar

FROM TINDERA TO SCHOLAR: JESSICA LIVES THE BNJ DREAM

Jessica was once ostracized by her fellow teenagers at Southville 7. “Ayaw nila sa akin, ayaw nila kasi galing daw ako sa Maynila”. Back in high school, she would jump out of her step father’s tricycle while they were on their way to her school. “Bigla na lang akong tatalon, magugulat na lang sya na wala na ako. Ayokong pumasok dahil walang gustong makipagkaibigan sa akin”. Fast forward to September 2014, Jessica is now a popular scholar at Polytechnic University of the Philippines in Calauan and is a well loved youth leader in BNJ. She leads a bible study group in her school and at the resettlement community.

It was during her stint as a tindera at an eatery in Palengke ni Juan when Jessica saw the opportunity to have a better future. One afternoon while serving her regular customers, he asked Frank (an employee of BNJ) if BNJ had a scholarship grant she can avail of. Fortunately there was! Jessica did not waste time and pursued the scholarship. In a few months time, she was able to enroll at P.U.P as a student of BS Education.

Today, Jessica pays it forward by tutoring kids in BNJ. She is grateful for the opportunity BNJ gave her and has this advise for fellow teenagers. “Nasa kamay ninyo ang ikagaganda ng kinabukasan ninyo. Wag kayong mahihiyang magtanong kung may mga opportunitites na pwede ninyong ma-avail. Wag ninyong hayaang hadlangan ng kahirapan ang magandang kinabukasan.”

FEEDING

BAKER WITH A MISSION

Every day, Ismael Turla wakes up eager to fulfill a mission. Armed with a heavy dut dough mixer, he prepares his secret bread recipe for more than a thousand children at Bayanijuan sa Southville 7 (BNJ). Ismael is the sole baker in charge of the bread served by three feeding programs at BNJ. Each feeding program is managed by a Program of the ABS-CBN Lingkod Kapamilya Foundation, Inc. which are at present implementing short and long term interventions for the community in BNJ.

Programa Genio launched “Pagkaing Genio” to take care of wasted malnourished students from the Sto. Tomas Elementary School Annex. Bantay Bata 163 and Sagip Kapamilya, on the other hand, take care of the students from Dayap Elementary School Annex and the BB163 Day Care centers. The children are weighed before and after the 120 day feeding program.

All feeding program provides lunch and hot meals like sopas, arrozcaldo and lomi. Of course all meals are paired with bread baked by Ismael. “Masaya po ako na nakakatulong ako na gumanda ang pangangatawan ng mga bata dito sa BNJ, gusto ko lahat ng bata malusog at hindi nagugutom. Kahit baker lang ako, masaya ako na may nagagawa ako para sa kapwa ko”.

Everyday, she serves hundreds of wasted or severely wasted children. Students queue mid-morning, lunch and mid afternoon for their daily ration;

(3) Participants of BayaniJuan sa Southville 7’s feeding program enjoy giant “nutribuns” baked fresh everyday at the site for more than 600 elementary and day care pupils. The bread is paired with hot meals cooked by volunteer parents within the community.

Kapamilya Konek

Kapamilya Konek became a commercial and production success. From zero advertising placements in its first few seasons, the show steadily gained a growing number of sponsors and advertisers. The show likewise consistently dominated the ratings in its time slot.

Kapamilya Konek first aired in April 2013, replacing Bago 'Yan Ah!, a science and technology (S&T) program produced by ALKFI which ran for 16 years. The change from S&T to a family-oriented format was a move by management to cater to the timeslot's majority listeners - women, 20-45 years old. According to DZMM, the whole Sunday afternoon block stands to benefit if the various programs from early afternoon to early evening catered to the same audience. This prevents listeners from switching channels in between their favorite programs.

While Bago 'Yan Ah! had a very successful run for more than a decade, it was time for a new program that is more aligned with the station's Sunday offerings.

The Filipino family has always been at the center of ALKFI's programs and projects. Its advocacies on children, the environment, education, disaster management and community building exist to serve their interest. It comes as no surprise that a show about family issues became the choice for the new show's format. Kapamilya Konek was created to help connect families to government and private agencies and experts to resolve issues and concerns that the average Filipino family faces.

The show likewise consistently dominated the ratings in its time slot. In terms of production, Kapamilya Konek was nominated as Best Counseling Radio Program in the Catholic Mass Media Awards and its first host, Maricel Laxa Pangilinan as Best Radio Magazine show host. It won as the 2014 Best Radio Magazine Program at the Kapisanan ng mga Brodkaster sa Pilipinas (KBP) Golden Dove Award. Kapit Bisig Para sa Ilog Pasig

On its fifth year, Kapit Bisig para sa Ilog Pasig (KBPIP) continues to transform the esteros from seas of filth, crime and waste into free-flowing bodies of water with verdant sidewalks. Not only has it been able to transform the esteros, it also brought positive change on the psyche of the communities.

In tandem with Pasig River Rehabilitation Commission (PRRC) and other staunch partners, KBPIP has taken on the rehabilitation of twenty-three (23) esteros out of forty-seven (47) tributaries connected to the Pasig River. Out of 23 esteros, eight have shown significant changes. The success started with a dream to revive the first estero - Estero de Paco. It all started with the vision that if Estero de Paco can be revived, then it can be duplicated in different tributaries connected to the Pasig River. Years passed and the transformation of Estero de Paco along with 7 more esteros proved to be beyond imaginable.

Erlinda Corpuz, OIC

Clockwise: Boat rides can now be enjoyed along Estero de Santibañez because of its improved condition; Purifying Now: A sign that can be seen in Estero de Santibañez, a symbolism of attaining the impossible yet promising goal of reviving the Pasig River; Students enjoy a stroll along Estero de Paco; A River Warrior conducts a workshop on community involvement.

2014 was a fruitful year for KBPIP. Natural disasters like flooding barely affected the residents living near the rehabilitated esteros. One of the highlights of this year is also the flourishing bridges in Manila that are finally unclogged, providing more convenient routes for both commuters and residents. Relocation of informal settlers has also begun on Estero de Pandacan and on the creeks of Mandaluyong namely: Maytunas, Buhangin and Ermitanyo. River Warriors have also begun forming their own organization, which translates to more willing and able stewards that will not only guard, but will also revere and ensure the revival and sustainability of now thriving bodies of water.

ESTEROS THEN AND NOW

The following esteros have almost completed the transformation.

ONGOING RELOCATION

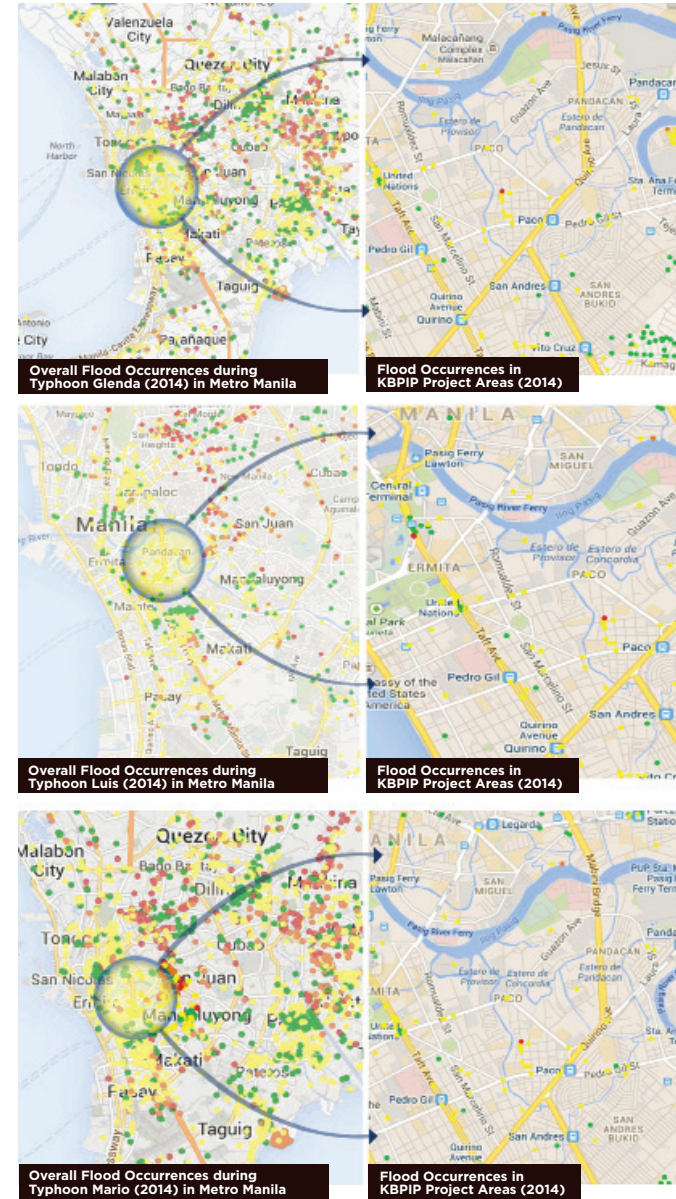

Rehabilitating the esteros entails strategic relocation of informal settlers. KBPIP holds the record of zero-resistance when it comes to taking out illegal settlers from esteros. This has been possible because of strategic implementation of relocating them, from social preparation to post relocation.

KBPIP, in tandem with PRRC and other staunch partners, have begun relocation efforts in Estero de Pandacan. To date, a total of 912 families were already relocated in Calauan, Laguna and in Pandi, Norzagaray, Balagtas at San Jose Del Monte, Bulacan. The mentioned resettlement sites were provided by the National Housing Authority. Consequently, six-meter easements have been secured to be developed as a linear park.

Relocation of informal settlers has also started in the creeks of Mandaluyong namely; Maytunas, Buhangin and Ermitanyo. A total of 142 families from these creeks were relocated in the areas provided by the NHA.

FLOODLESS ESTEROS

Releasing around 10 inches of raindrops that drowned most of the cities in Metro Manila and nearby provinces, Typhoon Mario joined the roster of the worst typhoons together with Ondoy and Yolanda. Within the 24-hour period of September 19, Typhoon Mario caused massive flooding displacing at least 37,000 residents from their homes. Such was not the case in the esteros of Manila. The residents living nearby remained unruffled recognizing the lush and unclogged waterways that surround them. Such was also the case during Typhoons Luis and Glenda which also ravaged the rest of Metro Manila except the rehabilitated esteros of Kapit Bisig para sa Ilog Pasig.

UNCLOGGED BRIDGES

L-R: Unclogged Osmeña Bridge which was once filled with rubbish and informal settlers now serves as a walkway for residents. The walls are adorned with colorful environment-themed murals; What used to be a sea of waste is now a place for recreation for residents living near Paco Market.

While the transformed esteros enjoy the limelight, it is also worth noting the no longer unclogged bridges of Paco and other areas of Manila. The bridges of Osmeña, Quirino, Pedro Gil, Trece de Agosto, Apacible-San Gregorio and U.N are the shining examples that it is possible to clean the remaining clogged bridges of Metro Manila.

Six years ago, these bridges affirmatively represented a third world country – impossible to rise from poverty. To date, six formerly filthy bridges now serve as pathways for students, residents and people from all walks of life. They can now willingly traverse these bridges because not only the esteros are clean, mural paintings on the walls also provide an inviting ambiance. These bridges have provided residents with more accessible and free walkways. Before, they had to pay for transportation to get from one place to another. Now, residents enjoy the convenience of clear pathways that lead to several key destinations in the area like schools, universities and other establishments. Restored and improved bridges also mean a healthier community as they can leisurely walk in it.

FROM GRIME TO PRIME

Within the busy city of Manila lies packets of greeneries found in some of its esteros. From a shameful sight to a haven of sprouting small forests, these esteros have truly come a long way.

RIVER WARRIORS: FROM BENEFICIARIES TO PARTNERS

The River Warriors go through Visioning Workshop where they relive their life stories towards clarifying their stake in the organization; and the organization's reason for being.

Kapit Bisig para sa Ilog Pasig endeavors to transform the River Warriors from being beneficiaries into becoming partners in reviving the water bodies of Metro Manila. The River Warriors have undergone several skills training and workshop to learn new skills and to be able to organize themselves as a team committed to ensure the cleanliness and overall revival of the esteros.

A series of workshops were organized to train the River Warriors to build and maintain an organization of their own. KBPIP organized a visioning workshop that aims to integrate the life stories, hopes and aspirations of River Warriors in creating their organization.

A focus group discussion was also organized to draft, revise and finalize the River Warriors' bylaws and constitution. Bayan Academy officiated financial mentoring to teach the River Warriors how to earn and handle wealth. A social entrepreneurship workshop that includes culinary training, vetiver production and other livelihood programs were likewise conducted.

All of these are clear manifestation that KBPIP empowers the community to lead themselves and to work towards sustaining and restoring their estero. The workshops defined the policies and procedures that will strengthen the leadership and accountability of River Warriors.

INFORMATION, EDUCATION AND COMMUNICATION

The dream of Kapit Bisig para sa Ilog Pasig is to empower the communities living in the esteros. The information, education and communication campaign is geared towards training them to mobilize activities that will sustain their environment while uplifting their standards of living. Capacity building is a vital portion of this campaign as well as participatory governance - enabling the community to actively join the LGU in implementing laws and projects for the betterment of their area.

A multi-sectoral environmental committee (MSEC) is formed in each estero. The committee convenes the different sectors to work towards continued restoration of the water bodies while uplifting the lives of the community. Each estero has distinct qualities and needs so the composition of the MSEC varies. MSEC usually consists of the barangay officials, people's organizations, schools and business establishments surrounding the area. Values education is vital in forming the MSEC.

In drawing up plans to improve the solid waste management in Esteros de Santibanez, Concordia and Pandacan, a second Waste Analysis and Characterization Study (WACS) Training was conducted on July 8, 2014 at La Mesa Dam Eco Park with the training resource provided by ADB-INCLAM. Twenty-eight (28) participants composed of community organizers and River Warriors attended the training. They were expected to implement WACS in three esteros.

(1) A ten-day Basic Community Organizing and Development Training was carried out by KBPIP and Cherry Mobile to bring out the leadership skills of the chosen members of the community and to resolve existing issues in fulfilling the task in the barangay.

(2) The workshop provides space for creativity, an essential ingredient in building a community of people advocating for social change. Creative pedagogy as an approach in learning processes facilitates the release of potentials and greater participation among the participants.

Programa Genio

Maricar Estole, Program Director

For the education component of the rehabilitation, Programa Genio was tasked to implement soft programs which include teacher training, supplemental feeding, art therapy classes and parenting seminars in Samar, Leyte and Palawan.

In 2014, four programs of ABS-CBN Lingkod Kapamilya Foundation, Inc. were tapped to lead in the implementation of a holistic intervention program for the rehabilitation of Yolanda-stricken areas. For the education component of the rehabilitation, Programa Genio was tasked to implement soft programs which include teacher training, supplemental feeding, art therapy classes and parenting seminars in Samar, Leyte and Palawan. The program focuses on teachers' self mastery for others, understanding the learners and topics to support the effective delivery of the K-12 curriculum.

While heavily involved in post Yolanda efforts, Programa Genio continued with its Educational Television campaign, putting in place educational video libraries in schools all over the country. Likewise, PG oversees several educational assistance programs within Bayanijuan sa Southville 7 in Calauan, which includes the management of two day care centers, the implementation of the ALS (Alternative Learning System) Program in partnership with the Department of Education and curriculum enhancement for Dayap and Sto. Tomas Elementary Schools.

Programa Genio is heavily involved in curriculum enhancement, feeding and provision of educational video libraries.

EDUCATIONAL TELEVISION (ETV)

ETV materials, which have been used by thousands of teachers as resource materials for classroom instruction for more than two decades, remain a favorite among educators. Episodes of science program Sineskwela, Mathtinik, Hlrayamanawari and Bayani are distributed as video library packages which include a TV set and a DVD player. Still relevant and informative, ETV materials were donated to a total of 49 schools.

Teacher training seminars were given to teachers of recipient schools to help them maximize the use of the donated educational resources and strategies to better implement media-assisted instruction in their schools.

An ETV video library consists of volumes of academic based video materials used by public schools for media-assisted instruction.

ALTERNATIVE LEARNING SYSTEM (ALS)

Jonathan de los Santos is a relocatee from Estero de Paco. He is 17 years old and currently works as a barber earning P3,200 a month. He enrolled in the Alternative Learning System (ALS) of DepEd so that he will be able to pursue higher studies in the future and to be able to increase his monthly income.

In 2014, Programa Genio was able to enroll 46 students from BNJ Calauan in the ALS (Alternative Learning System) Program of the Department of Education. ALS provides continuing educational opportunities for school dropouts, out of school youth and adults who are not able to finish their education. Students who are able to pass the Accreditation and Equivalency test given by the Department of Education and the Bureau of Alternative Learning System either pursue higher studies or gain better employment.

DAY CARE MANAGEMENT

Programa Genio manages two day care centers within BayaniJuan in Calauan – SMC and Firstville. Since it began operations in 2010, these centers have been providing children a head start for their eventual entry to regular schools. It is noted that many finishers from both SMC and Firstville who are now studying at Dayap Annex Elementary School in Calauan perform well in academics and sports. In 2014, the two centers had a total of 191 pupils.

- The student must have good moral conduct from the school.
- The student must not be a recipient of any other scholarship grant.

LIBRARY DEVELOPMENT

Provision of books to school libraries
Beneficiaries: 4 schools in Samar and Leyte,
9 schools in Busuanga

Because of Yolanda, many libraries in Samar, Leyte and Busuanga were wiped out leaving school without any books for students. Programa Genio solicited assorted reading materials like reference books and story books from various donors and was able to fill a total of 13 schools in above-mentioned areas. Since the libraries opened, an average of 185 students read a book everyday.

During their break time, students enjoy reading a variety of story and reference books solicited by Programa Genio.

CLEAN AND GREEN PROGRAM

To help students become aware of proper waste management and how to grow vegetables in their backyards, Programa Genio conducted a clean and green program in Panlaitan Elementary School and Buluang Elementary School. Children were taught how to segregate biodegradable from non-biodegradable waste as well as ways on how to save the environment.

Sagip Kapamilya

In 2014, four Programs of the ABS-CBN Lingkod Kapamilya Foundation, Inc. - Bantay Kalikasan, Bantay Bata 163, Programa Genio and Sagip Kapamilya worked together to provide a holistic area development project for the survivors of Yolanda.

Jun Dungo, Program Director

Typhoon Yolanda was one of the strongest storms ever recorded, with wind speed of more than 300 km/h and storm surges of over four meters. The typhoon made its first of six landfalls in Guian, Eastern Samar on November 8, 2013 and crossed the Visaya region for almost a day, causing widespread flooding. One hundred and seventy-one (171) municipalities in 14 provinces and six regions were highly affected. There were 6,300 reported deaths and 1,472,251 affected families.

The devastation in Samar and Leyte was massive. An estimated 1.1 million houses were severely damaged or destroyed, around 33 million coconut trees were broken or uprooted and a total of 30,000 fishing vessels were wrecked.

On December 30, 2013, a post-Yolanda summit invited 400 NGOs, businesses, corporate foundations, and church groups for concerted action. Sec. Panfilo Lacson who was appointed by President Benigno Aquino III as the czar for the rehabilitation and recovery of Yolanda-hit areas, urged those in attendance to sponsor the redevelopment of the disaster-stricken areas. ABS-CBN Lingkod Kapamilya Foundation Inc. (ALKFI) chose to be the development sponsor for the towns of Dulag in Leyte and Basey in Samar. The municipalities of Santa Rita and Marabut both in Samar, were eventually added. As a development sponsor, ALKFI would stimulate the inclusive rehabilitation and redevelopment of its chosen towns. ALKFI will provide assistance for livelihood, reconstruction and rehabilitation of priority school sites, capacity building of school teachers and administrators, community organizing among fishermen, value-adding economic activities, and networks and linkages with government and private stakeholders for funding, expertise and technical assistance and technology support.

Through the “Tulong Na, Tabang Na” campaign of ABS-CBN, Sagip Kapamilya generated more than a billion pesos in cash and in-kind donations for the victims of super typhoon Yolanda, the biggest received by a single non-government agency for a calamity in the Philippines. This is a testament to the high level of

In 2014, four Programs of the ABS-CBN Lingkod Kapamilya Foundation, Inc. - Bantay Kalikasan, Bantay Bata 163, Programa Genio and Sagip Kapamilya worked together to provide a holistic area development project for the survivors of Yolanda. The area development plan is based on a comprehensive on ground assessment of affected areas by Bayan Academy in consultation with the local government units and their constituents. The interventions focused on livelihood, building of schools and soft programs for education.

In the same year, Sagip Kapamilya continued to implement various rehabilitation projects for survivors of past calamities. SK was into building of damaged schools, medical missions and feeding programs in partnership with Bantay Bata 163. It conducted relief missions for victims of other calamities such as fire, armed conflict and typhoon.

TULONG NA, TABANG NA

The “Tulong Na, Tabang Na, Tayo Na” is an advocacy campaign launched by ABS-CBN Corporation to raise funds for Sagip Kapamilya’s efforts to aid the victims of typhoon Yolanda. The advocacy campaign included selling of Tulong shirts and a star-studded Tulong fund-raising concert with the country’s leading artists performing pro bono and raising funds from the public through a 3-day telethon.

(1&2) Stars of ABS-CBN and Executives came in full force in support of the Tulong Na, Tabang Na Tayo Na Concert to raise funds for Yolanda survivors. In attendance were (l-r) Chairman Eugenio “Gabby” Lopez, Free TV Head Cory Vidanes and President Charo Santos-Concio.

(3) TULONG NA TABANG NA SHIRTS: The phenomenal Tulong Na, Tabang Na Shirt of ABS-CBN Licensing and Marketing generated 12 million pesos in donation for Sagip Kapamilya’s Typhoon Yolanda operations;

(4&5) The Sagip Kapamilya Telethon for Typhoon Yolanda victims started on November 9th over, “It’s Showtime” and continued in “ASAP” and “Rated K” on November 10th, and ended in “KrisTV” on November 11th, 2013.

Even before typhoon Yolanda made land fall, relief packs were ready in key areas near provinces that will be hit by the typhoon. Thousands of relief packs were pre-positioned in ABS-CBN Regional Network Group Tacloban Station to allow immediate distribution of food and aid to affected families. The volume of donations escalated as the Tulong Na, Tabang Na campaign went full swing.

With in-kind donations coming from all over the country and the world, Sagip Kapamilya operated its warehouse along Examiner Street in Quezon City for 24 hours until it reached full capacity in just a few days. To accommodate the high volume of donations that continue to pour in, the ABS-CBN Center Road within the ABS-CBN Compound was converted into a drop off and receiving station. However, in just 24 hours since it opened, it can no longer hold the volume of donations prompting the conversion of the old DZMM Building into a warehouse. It was likewise filled to the brim in 48 hours. Tons of donations also came in the Pinoy Big Brother House along Eugenio Lopez Drive, which opened its doors and became a warehouse and a receiving and packing station. Still unable to contain the massive donations of clothing, food, water and other items, ABS-CBN opened a drop off center and warehouse in Fairview.

Volunteers from the Armed Forces of the Philippines, students, civilians and even its stars from Star Magic worked in shifts to pack relief goods. The goods were transported through air, land and sea with the help from the military, private truck owners, shipping companies and courier services.

The goal was to build back better the lives of those who were affected by Yolanda.

VALUES FORMATION SEMINAR FOR BENEFICIARIES

To ensure that beneficiaries will better manage the resources entrusted to them, Bantay Kalikasan, which implements the livelihood projects for Yolanda survivors, requires the communities to undergo a series of seminars and workshops. Seminar topics include community organizing, organizational development, basic finance management systems, values, teamwork, health and environment. The modules emphasize the opportunity to share positivity and feelings of hope through working together. It also includes Disaster Risk Reduction and Management (DRRM) Training to prepare the community for future calamities.

Ultimately, the participants are required to pledge not to engage in any form of illegal fishing and vices like smoking, drinking, drug addiction and gambling.

Sweat Equity for Boat Beneficiaries

To instill deep sense of ownership and involvement among beneficiaries, BK engaged the locals in building their own fishing boats. The materials and building plan were provided by Sagip Kapamilya. Three to four men helped each other in building a boat which takes a total of ten days to finish. Senior citizens and women, on the other hand, helped in making fishnets.

INTERVENTIONS FOR YOLANDA-AFFECTED AREAS

LIVELIHOOD

FISHING BOAT AND GEARS DISTRIBUTION

Based on the findings of Bayan Academy, the main source of livelihood of Yolanda affected communities is fishing. Majority of the fisherfolks lost their boats and gears during the storm surge, leaving households with no source of income. The recommendation of Bayan Academy as part of the Area Development plan was to provide motorized bancas and fishing gears through the various associations of fishermen per municipality. This will ensure that the boats are well maintained and fishing activities are well regulated.

A total of 2,199 motorized fishing boats complete with fishing gears were given to 78 coastal barangays in Samar and Leyte. In these provinces, fisherfolks earn an average of P163 - P363.00 per trip. In Masbate, the average income is P400 per trip, with fishermen catching 2.9 kilograms of fish per trip.

LIVELIHOOD

ECOTOURISM

With funds from Sagip Kapamilya, Bantay Kalikasan committed to preserve and promote the beauty of Sohoton Caves and Balintak Falls located at Basey, Samar – one of the areas hit by Typhoon Yolanda in 2013.

Sohoton Cave located at Brgy. Inuntan and Balintak Falls located at Brgy. Rawis are identified as protected areas under Samar Island Natural Park – Protected Area Management Board (SINP-PAMB). One of the commitments of ALKFI is to promote tourism destinations and livelihood programs for the victims of the typhoon. An initial of 10 kayaks were donated to the community.

Inside Sohoton Cave are different unique rock formations. The local government unit will assist in developing the area as an ecotourism site. ALKFI also assigned a patrol boat and pledged to provide training for patrolling the sea, to protect marine biodiversity from dynamite and other forms of illegal fishing.

The magnificent Sohoton River and the amazing rock formations inside the cave.

(L-R) Basey, Samar Mayor Igmedio Ponferrada, SINP-PAMB DENR Regional Executive Director Leonardo Sibbaluca, ALKFI Chairman Gina Lopez, Department of Tourism Supervising Tourism Officer Trina Dacuycuy and PAWB & Coastal Zone Management Service Regional Technical Director Danilo Javier sign memorandum of agreement to declare Sohoton Cave and Balintak Falls as an ecotourism destination.

TIKOG WEAVING

Tikog is a kind of wild grass endemic to several barangays in Samar. For many generations, weavers were exploited by middlemen who buy their banig at dirt cheap prices. Local weavers rely on middlemen for capital and buyers, thus they were unable to sell their products at fair prices.

As part of the livelihood assistance program for Basey, 826 weavers from 22 barangays were given sewing machines and an initial capital of P20,000 for tikog cultivation. Today, weavers earn almost P400 more per banig, while sewers earn between P 300 – 500 a day. Eleven (11) out of 20 weavers associations have planted their own tikog. The local weavers are now able to sustain their production and get better prices for their products.

In just a few months, the weavers of Basey sold 4,800 tikog bags worth P1.2 M to Toshiba Philippines and another 360 bags to G Stuff.

Basey Tikog Weavers and their sample products.

CARABAO DISTRIBUTION

A total of 25 barangays were given 25 carabaos, benefiting 751 farmers. An additional 25 carabaos will be distributed in Dulag with a reach of 562 beneficiaries.

ORGANIC FARMING

ALKFI-BK, in tandem with San Jose Farmers' Association, was able to send 50 farmers to train in alternative and climate change-adaptive farming techniques. These include vermiculture, vermicomposting, vegetable production, natural fermented solution production, container and six-storey gardening, biochar production, soy bean production, nursery management and coconut-based diversified farming system. Fourteen barangays have taken the lead in organic farming in Dulag, Leyte and three federated community associations are engaged in agri-business project development in Basey, Samar.

Fourteen (14) barangays have replicated the organic farming technology. A total of 1,391 beneficiaries were given seeds and organic fertilizers.

Model garden in Barangay San Jose, Dulag, Leyte is now a center for learning and improving organic gardening practices.

FREE RANGE CHICKEN DISTRIBUTION

A total of 132 beneficiaries were given an initial stock of poultry in Sta. Rita, Samar.

SCHOOL BUILD AND REPAIRS

In consultation with the Department of Education, Sagip Kapamilya identified public elementary and national high schools from Capiz, Aklan, Panay Island, Iloilo, Palawan, Samar and Leyte that need classroom repair, rehabilitation and rebuilding. One hundred fifty-eight (158) are set to be built. The classrooms are designed to withstand extreme weather conditions as classrooms commonly serve as evacuation centers in times of calamity and disaster. Beyond building classrooms, ALKFI will provide soft programs for school development through Programa Genio.

STRONG PARTNERSHIP WITH ENERGY DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

Using funds donated to ALKFI- Sagip Kapamilya, the Energy Development Corporation (EDC) managed the construction of 77 new classrooms and the repair of 10 classrooms in 27 school sites in Leyte, Samar and Iloilo. The new classrooms can withstand wind velocity of 250 kilometers per hour based on the standards set by the Department of Public Works and Highways (DPWH) and the Minimum Performance Standards and Specification (MPSS) of the Department of Education (DepEd) for typhoon-resilient structures. The classrooms also feature new ceilings and wider windows for better ventilation. Other added amenities are wider blackboards, electric fans and comfort rooms. Roofing is reinforced using a new method of connecting the galvanized iron sheet to the trestle. The walls are thicker, almost double the old classrooms. Instead of gutters where ripping off of the roof starts, inclined floors with drain canals were constructed. The classrooms have higher ceiling and wider windows for better ventilation, and will also be furnished with electric fans and toilet facilities.
